

Jennifer Gerlock is a Know it. All.

I'm a thirty-something mother of two attempting to hold-it-all-together while juggling work, marriage, life and the perils of raising young boys.

I rely on The Frederick News-Post for just about everything, especially up to date information on local issues that affect me and my family, not to mention community news and events, business developments, politics and on and on.

Not only do I have a subscription to the FNP but I also depend on their website for breaking news and weather, not to mention the community of bloggers, of course.
